Watching Channel One Ann De Vaney, 1994-07-01 Channel One, an electronic curriculum that was developed primarily to sell products in the marketplace, is cablecast daily to approximately twelve thousand public high schools in the United States. About one quarter of our public secondary schools have been wired by Whittle Communications, a private company for the delivery of this required news program. This translates to a captive audience for advertisements of around eight to nine million teens. The political, economic, social, and cognitive impact of Channel One will be vast. How did school board members and administrators arrive at the decision to include Channel One in their districts? What is the form and content of news and advertising on Channel One? Do students pay attention to the news? To the ads? Do students learn from Channel One? These questions, among others, are addressed in this book. By employing various forms of discourse analysis, critical theory, rhetorical analysis, structural and post-structural readings, descriptive case studies, and traditional effects studies, the authors provide a thorough investigation into Channel One.

Digital Innovations for Mass Communications Paul Martin Lester, 2013-11-12 In every field of mass communications—advertising, entertainment studies, journalism, public relations, radio, television, film, tourism, and visual reporting—professionals understand the importance of storytelling. Regardless of whether the finished product is a commercial, an in-depth investigative piece, a public service campaign, an independent documentary, a travelogue, or a collection of photographs, effective storytelling requires a combination of creativity, empathy, and expertise. Through the innovative technologies and techniques described in this textbook, students will learn how to turn passive readers and viewers into engaged and regular users. The sixteen chapters each include a brief introduction, assignments, simple to follow step-by-step exercises, and sources for additional information in which users will learn to produce apps, informational graphics, quick response codes, quizzes, simulations, smartphone and tablet icons, social media campaigns, three-dimensional pictures, and video. Students will work with the following programs: Blogger, Dreamweaver, Excel, Facebook, GeoCommons, Google Maps, Illustrator, Imgur, iMovie, Infogram, iShowU, JavaScript, JustGive, Kaywa, Kickstarter, LinkedIn, Onvert, Photoshop, Pixel Resort, QuickTime, Reddit, Second Life, SurveyMonkey, TheAppBuilder, Twitter, Vizualize, Wikipedia, Word, WordPress, and YouTube. When digital innovations are added to traditional print and screen presentations a media user is not only allowed to interact with the information but can also physically engage with the story displayed Giving students the tools they need to transform their storytelling in this manner is the ultimate goal of this textbook
